CALLERS ON GEN. HARRISON

A DELEGATION FROM CHICAGO.

GENERAL ALGER AND SENATOR SPOONER AS CABINET OFFICERS-THE GREAT CUM-

BERLAND CAMPAIGN BALL

ORY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Indianapolis, Nov. 13.-There was enough variety in the occupation of the President-elect to-day to relieve the monotony of congratulations, embracing incidents that doubtless afforded him some quiet amuse-ment. A party of prominent Republicans from Chi-cago, among them Frederick W. Peck, O. W. Nixon. John H. Patterson and F. H. Head, called early in the morning for the purpose of urging the President-elect to accept an invitation to accompany some Chicago gentlemen on a hunting trip into the wilds of the Northwest. The invitation had previously reached the General through William Penn Nixon, of "The Inter-Ocean," who, if his expectations are realized, will probably be the Collector of the Port of Chicago, and it is understood that it was one of the objects of the callers to adroitly make known the desires of Mr. Nixon in advance of possible claims by others. Their visit has also caused a great deal of gossip about the probable recognition that will be given Illinois by the dministration. It is hardly expected that the State will be represented in the Cabinet, as the only man from the Northwest who will be placed in charge of rtfolio will, it is believed here, be General Alger, of Michigan, or Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, with the theories as to preference more strongly in favor of the latter. Mr. Spooner's relations to General Harrison have been of an intimate and friendly nature. He spent three or four weeks in Indiana during the campaign, and was frequently at the home of the candidate as a guest at dinner or lunch. It is known that General Harrison regards him as a level-headed man and values his judgment on public matters. The President-elect also has a very kindly feeling for General Alger, and is pretty certain to offer him seme post under the Administration of high dignity, but it more likely to be in the Diplomatic service than in the Cabinet.

Soon after the departure of the Chicago visitors, General Harrison received a call from a committee of Evansville citizens, who came to ask him, not for office, but for the honor of his presence at the cornerstone laying of a new court-house that is being erected in their city. In line with firmly-established preedents, he declined to perform the service asked of him, because if he should assist in laying one cornerstone he would soon have demands upon him for his presence at a hundred other affairs of the same char-

Within five days he has received five invitations to dinners. He has declined all of them.

One of the demands made upon him to-day, however, he complied with. It came from his enthusiastic friends here, who represented not only their own wishes but those of the Republicans of Cumberland, Md., who were anxious that the glory of the recent victory should be rounded out by having their huge campaign bail photographed in front of the Harrison home. The President-elect consented that the ball should be rolled out to his home and placed on the lawn, where a view of it and the house could be taken together. Afterward the ball was taken away and will be returned to Cumberland. This afternoon the President-elect found diversion in making a few purchases down-town, and afterward in visiting the annual chrysanthemum show, which he was afforded an opportunity of viewing before it was opened to the public.

INVESTIGATING FRAUDS IN INDIANA. FRAUDS, INTIMIDATION AND OUTRAGES TO BE CONSIDERED BY THE GRAND JURY.

Indianapolis, Nov. 13 (Special).-The recent election frauds in Indiana are to be thoroughly investigated, and it is probable that the National House of Representatives will be called upon to look into some of the irregularities. Frank B. Posey, the Republican candidate for Congress in the 1st District, was de-feated by a plurality of only twenty-six, and his friends assert that they have evidence to prove that more than enough fraudulent votes to make up the narrow margin on the side of the Democratic candidate were cast in Pike County. This evidence will grobably be made the basis of a contest. The frauds k which the United States Grand Jury will give attention embrace innumerable cases of bribery and attempts to vote illegally. Judge Woods this aftermoon gave the jury specific instructions for the investigation of these cases and he also directed attention to reported cases of violation of the Civil Service law which came under the jurisdiction of the Civil Service law which came under the jurisdiction of the Federal Court. Trouble is accumulating for Edward Bawkins, the United States Marshal who appointed a large number of hummers and ex-convicts as deputies for service on Election Day and who committed indumerable outrages. Many voters were intimidated and a large number of reputable citizens were arrested without cause. Twelve of them have filed mits on the official bond of the Marshal for damages. The demands aggregate $100,000. Many more suits will be filed.

OFFICIAL FIGURES FROM INDIANA. DENERAL HOVEY'S PLURALITY 2,191-THE ELECTORAL VOTE NOT YET COMPLETE. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.-Official returns of the rote for Governor of Indiana were completed to night. The total Gubernatorial vote was 536.634, against 195.004 for Governor in 1884. General Hovey (Rep.) has 263,194 votes, Colonel Matson (Dem.) 261,003, Hughes (Pro.) 9,776, Milroy (Labor) 2,661; Hovey's plurality, 2.191, against 7.392 for Governor Gray [Dem.) in 1884. The Prohibition vote in 1884 was 1.338. Official returns on Presidential electors are not ret complete, but the returns thus far received indicate that the Presidential vote was only a few hundred in treess of the Gubernatorial. Official rturns of the Congressional vote will be completed to-day.

THE HOME MARKET CLUB'S COMING DINNER. Boston, Nov. 13 (Special).-The Board of Directors of the Home Market Club to-day appointed a reception committee of twenty-nine members. Chauncey M. sepew will attend the club's dinner, and it is still ped that Mr. Blaine will find it possble to come. Nearly 1,000 tickets have been sold to members of the club in all parts of the country, to say nothing of these reserved for the invited guests. John F. Scanlaut the Irish orator, telegraphed to-day from Chleago that he would be present, and General Alger, of Michigan, with his family, will arrive in Boston hursday morning.

ELECTION TROUBLE AT BEAUFORT, S. C. Charleston, S. C., Nov. 13.-There have been rumors all day of expected trouble at Beaufort, growing out of the election of the mixed Republican and Demotratte county ticket. The supporters of the straight Republican ticket threatened bloodshed and arson if the mixed ticket should be successful. The South Carolina militia at the Angusta Exposition, it is stated, has been ordered to Beaufort, and an addition-al company is in readiness here. Late to-night all is quiet.

The deaths were H. Edmondson (colored) and A. Veneraze.

Permission having been obtained from Surgeon General Hamilton, the Rogers special train will leave to-morrow morning for Macon, with about thirty pasengers. Among them are Dr. Carr, of Cincinnati; Dr. Broadurs, of St. Louis; Dr. Sollace Mitchell, of Sand Hills fame, who goes to meet his wife in New-Jersey, and Miss Delaro, of New-York, the head nurse of the Sand Hills. To-day has been rainy and chilly. Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 13.-Montgomery has raised her quarantine against both Decatur and Jacksonville, and passengers and baggage can now come in.

Decatur, Ala., Nov. 13.-No new cases; no deaths. Quite a number of refugees have returned. This is my last message. JEROME COCHRAN, M. D. my last message. JEROME COCHRAN, M. D.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 13.—Quarantine against Decatur has been raised, and passenger and freight business has been resumed by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad to and from that point.

Gainesville, Fla., Nov. 13 .- Surgeon Martin reports three new cases of yellow fever and one death-J. H. Davies, of Kentucky.

De Land, Fla., Nov. 13 .- There has been no yellow fever here, but owing to its prevalence in other parts of the State the trustees of the De Land University thought it wise to postpone the opening of the college year. The announcement was made to-day, however, that the university will open on Tuesday, December 4.

PULLMAN PASSENGERS IN A PANIC.

PENNSYLVANIA SLEEPING-CAR CATCHES

FIRE AND IS PARTIALLY BURNED. Pittsburg, Nov. 18 .- While crossing the mountains oming west, early this morning, the Pullman sleeper Aragon, of New-York express train No. 9, Pennsylvania road, caught fire, and before the flames could be extinguished one-half of the car was consumed, together with the clothing of a number of the passengers. The fire was discovered about 4 clock, when the train was nearing Conemaugh The passengers were quickly awakened, and half-clad they rushed panie-stricken from their berths into the adjoining car. Meanwhile, the fire was steadily gaining, and it was feared the car would be entirely consumed. The porter, however, with the assistance of the fire extinguisher and several the assistance of the fire extinguisher and several cool-headed passengers, soon had the flames under control. There were twenty passengers on the car, but fortunately no one was injured. The passengers who had lost pertions of their clothing presented a demoralized appearance when they arrived in this city this morning. It is supposed that the fire caught from the stove. The loss is not known.

THE ROCHESTER DISASTER.

SIX MORE BODIES RECOVERED FROM THE RUINS OF THE LANTERN WORKS.

Rochester, Nov. 13 (Special).-The work of excavation at the ruins of the steam gauge and lantern works yesterday resulted in the discovery of a man's foot. As further search failed to reveal a body in the vicinity, it is supposed that the member belonged to one of the bodies already exhumed. It was a forerunner of what was to be found to-day, when five bodies, or rather charred stumps, in some cases unrecognizable, were found. It took the workmen nearly two hours to remove the obstructions so that the bodies could be taken away. This evening another body was found near the same spot. As twenty-two men are still missing and but four of the bodies found yesterday are unidentified, there is no doubt that a dozen men are still in the ruins. Over $10,000 has been contributed for the relief of families of the victims.

At the fifth regular meeting of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, which was held at the clubouse last night, a memorial address on Messrs. C. S. Cythera during the blizzard of March last, was sented and approved. The amendment to the constitution, providing that "the fleet captain's penconstitution, providing that "the fleet captain's pen-nant shall be swallow-tailed in shape, the hoist to be two-thirds of the length, the device a fouled anchor in white on a bine field," which was passed at the last meeting, was ratified; and the rules were amended so that Class VIII now includes all sloops, cutters and yawls over thirty feet and not over thirty-five feet load water-line length; and another class, Class IX, is added embracing all of thirty feet load water-line and under.

OIL FOUND WITHIN TWO MILES OF PITTSBURG. Pittsburg, Nov. 13 (Special).-An oil well struck by the Fort Pitt Gas Company, on the Phelps farm, Rob nson township, was to-day doing twenty barrels a lay. The well is only about five miles from the Pittsburg post office, and about one and a half miles from the city line. Oil has never been found so close to rittsburg before, and for that reason the well is creat-ing considerable excitement. The stock of the Fort Pilt Company is controlled by Captain J. J. Buchanan. T. J. Vandergrift and other members of the United Oil and Gas Trust.

REUNION OF A VERMONT CAVALRY REGIMENT Montpeller, Vt., Nov. 13 (Special).-The sixteenth annual reunion of the 1st Vermont Cavalry held here to-night was a notable occasion. More than on hundred survivors of this famous cavalry organization were present, including General William Well, exwere present, including General William Well, excollector of customs; Brigadier-General William L.

A NEW PACIFIC COAST RAILWAY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13.—The Los Angeles, Utah and Atlantic Raliway Company was incorporated to-day with a capital stock of $1,600,000. The object is to build and operate a road from San Pedro Bay, near Los Angeles, to the eastern boundary of the State. Among the directors are J. C. Marble, of Van Wert, Ohlo, and C. W. Scott, of Manistee, Mich.

THE VISIT OF THE DUTCH TO HOLLAND, A large and fashionable audience listened to the inter-esting and instructive lecture of the Rev. Dr. J. Howard Suydam, at the Park Reformed Church in Jersey City last sevening, on "The Visit of the Holland Society of New-York to the Netherlands," and for an hour and a half travelled in fancy over that little country which has given travelled in fancy over that little country which has given us so many sturdy sons. He described the life on board one of the Atlantic steamers, and the cordial welcome accorded the society in the "harbor city of the Dutch." Rotterdam, with its shipping: Amsterdam, with its famous galleries and tile-roofed houses; The Hague, with its historic buildings and the chambers of torture; Leyden, which chose a university in preference to freedom from taxation, were brieny described.

A number of national airs of Holland were played on the organ and made a pleasing feature of the occasion.

OLD BLIND GEORGE.

From The Americus Republican.
Old George Carter, commonly known by everybody in Americus as "Bilind George," is a living example to others of his race of what industry, honesty and frugality will accomplish.
For over twenty years he has been totally blind, but this fact did not induce him to sit down in filleness, as he might have done, and become a derendent upon others.

He was not made of that kind of material, and instead of bewaiting his misfortune he went bravely to work to make a living, selecting an occupation that while ardons has never failed to bring him all the necessaries, if not a few of the comforts of life.

KINGS COUNTY HAPPY.

MR. MILLER'S CANVASS PRAISED. GOOD WORDS FOR REPUBLICAN WORKERS AND

THANKS TO THE PRESS. fully attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican General Committee of Kings County was held in the Everett Assembly Rooms in Brooklyn last evening. President David A. Baldwin, despite his defeat for Register, appeared in his place with a smiling face, and condoled with A. J. Perry, Thomas W. Wood and W. C. Vosburg, who were also defeated, although a gallant fight was made in the local contests. The reduction of the Democratic plurality on the National ticket was a subject for congratulation, and full credit was given for the work done. The first business was fixing the date for primaries to elect members for the General Committee of 1889 on Wednesday, November 22, except in the Twelfth Ward, where the primary will be held a day later. On the vote for Governor cast November 6 the apportionment of representation in the committee will be increased by 106, making the total number 376.

A committee of five was appointed to arrange for the attendance of the committee at the inauguration of President Harrison. Resolutions of thanks were passed to the members of the of thanks were passed to the members of the Campaign Committee. After the resolutions had been applauded, Mr. Willis was called for, and responded with a bright speech, which was warmly received. He commended the work of his associates, and that of Colonel J. W. Jones as grand marshal of the parades, as well as the support accorded by the colored men of Kings County. Applause greeted his mention of the work of ex-Judge Samuel D. Morris, a former Democrat. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

THE COUNTY DEMOCRACY IN SACKCLOTH. COLONEL FELLOWS "SICK BUT NOT DISCOUR-AGED"-TAMMANY'S BIVAL IN A

The County Democracy made a superhuman enort last evening to show that it was not dead, but after all the attempt proved to be but little better than a wake. It was the usual "after election" meeting of the County Committee and the larger meeting room upstairs at Cooper Union was jammed with committee men, defeated candidates and their sympathizing friends, extending out into the corridors. The air of the place was as heavy as the hearts of the followers of the vanquished organization. The only absentee of prominence was the retiring statesman, Chairman John R. Voorhis presided, and after the roll had been called, Major John O'Byrne appeared upon the restrum and read the address which had been prepared to account if possible for the hapless ondition into which the organization has fallen. It epiores the defeat of the Democratic party; culo-Administration: Cleveland and makes the silly assertion that the defeat was caused by a corrupt use of money by the Republicans: advances the equally foolish notion that the workingmen were deceived into voting for Harrison and Morton by the "false cry of free trade," and tearfully rejoices in the election of Hill and Jones.

The final paragraph bestows some worn-out flattery upon Mr. Hewitt, and declares that their "organization faithfully supported him and his associates on the ticket." It concluded by mak-ing the modest claim of "65,000 votes as a fair test of the strength of the County Democracy under the adverse circumstances which embarrassed its action at the late election. Major O'Bryne delivered a speech of a character Major C'Bryne delivered a specin of a character initiar to the address, which was adopted by acclamation. Colonel Fellows was called for voelferously, but declined to take the platform. He said that he was sick, but not discouraged, and would speak to them another time. He thought that their 65,000 votes would yet be found an important factor in State and National contests. A few remarks by Assistant District-Attorney Fitzgerald closed the exercises.

THE SPEAKERSHIP CONTEST LIVELY. MR. COLE'S FRIENDS CONFIDENT, WHILE GEN-ERAL HUSTED'S SUPPORTERS FEEL

embly seems likely to be fought out here this year. At least, such was the inference of any one who sappened to drop into the Fifth Avenue Hotel yes. terday and witnessed the preliminary skirmishing of the opposing forces. Mr. Cole's supporters were in the ajority to be sure, so much so as to make the contest eem somewhat one-sided. Still, it was highly intersting, for every one was aware that, as Mr. Cole himself remarked, "General Husted was not thirty miles away."

Mr. Cole's friends, such as Ernest H. Crosby, Robert Ray Hamilton, Senator Hendricks and others pushed he canvass of their candidate quietly, but with great persistence. They seemed to think that he would certainly be re-elected, a belief that was shared by Mr. Cole himself.

"I don't know any reason why we should feel at all apprehensive," said one of Mr. Cole's chief friends, but for the report that Mr. Depew favors General Husted this year. I understand that this report is well founded. If it is, then we realize that we have ore to contend against that we did last season when the President of Central kept his hands off the mater entirely. One thing is certain, we have nearly all the leaders of the Assembly with us. Over twenty all the leaders of the Assembly with us. Over twenty men are pledged to vote for Mr. Cole, and as u,any more are almost certain to support him."

O. G. Warren, of Buffalo; Senator Walker, of Batzvia; Senator Hiscock, John W. Vrooman and others chatted about the contest, but expressed no opinions as to the probable outcome of it.

General Husted's supporters point to the fact that no less than oleven of the nineteen members of the inst Legislature who voted for him were returned. These are Acker, of Steuben; Curris, of St. Lawrence; Edwarks, of Orleans; Mase, of Dutchess; McKenzie, of Genesee; Rhoades, of Westchester; Aspinali, of Kings; Brownell, of Fulton Hamilton; McEvoy, of Herkimer, and Smith, of Sullivan. With such an experienced let of advocates as these the General feels confident of victory.

MISS DICKINSON'S SUIT. HER OWN VIEW OF HER CASE AGAINST THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

An open letter to The Tribune from Miss Anna Dickinson reaches us through the medium of a " New-York World" proof-slip. It seems to be based on the idea that the headings of a local article, giving what the Republican Committee said about her suit, were meant to express The Tribune's opinion, whereas they merely summarized what the committee said. Bless her, we haven't the remotest notion of projudging her case, and cordially wish she may get all the money she wants. The Tribune's reporter was directed to procure her statement at the same time and print t fully, and if it should prove that there is no mis apprehension about her declaration that he didn't try, is fault will cost him his place. It may prove, however, as great an illusion as her grotesque idea about being in danger from fancied ill-will on the part of The Tribune, when, in fact, The Tribune went out of its way to print the most favorable account of her oratorical success in Indiana. The substance of Miss Dickinson's case against the Republican National Committee, as outlined in her letter, follows:

mittee, as outlined in her letter, follows:

It is not true that I was simply engaged by the committee to make speeches at $1.25 a speech and after making fifteen was paid for thirty at that rate. I was definitely engaged for thirty at that rate and the reason I was paid for that number was not because I was not kept so busy as was expected and would be disappointed, but because my contract called for that amount of work and remuneration.

I deny that there was a lack of applications for my services by State Committees or that I was compelled to give place to more prominent speakers. I was informed that every chalman of a Northern state Committee asked for my services except one, and he subsequently altered his opinion and asked for my work. For the statement that the hesitancy in demanding my services was due to a desire to keep a woman out of the rush and noise of political meetings, I thank the gentleman who made the statement. woman out of the rush and noise of political meetings, I thank the gentleman who made the statement, that I, Anna Bickinson, who have been sent by the organized committees of this party to face great out-of-door gatherings, riots, mobs, to discourse at the invitation of the Congress of the United States to the assembled official wisdom and power of the Nation in the hall of the House of Representatives; to speak mounted on gun carriages to masses of soldiers under in the hall of the House of Representatives; to speak mounted on gun carriages to masses of soldiers under arms; In crowded hospitals to thousands of heroes lying prone; on battle-fields upon which the slain were still almost warm; through the Mollie Magnire country ware they could not find a man to go, and where my greetings at the crossroads or the pil's mouth were sticks, stones, rotten eggs, bullets fired again and again till the half was cut by one from the side of my head; that this speaker should be first muzzled and then "therally paid" for her silence, to save her at last from the "excitement and cheering of political meetings," is something touch one to the soul. Believe that I appreciate it—and The Tribune's statement of 1s.

Continuing with regard to the statement that the Continuing with regard to the statement that the State Committee was unwilling to take her services Miss Dickinson says:

the present let it hat it is but For that For the present let it suffice it that the present let it suffice it is but natural "the County Chairmen would not take her," whe as I can testify by the evidence of a letter written by the Chairman of the State Committee, the county chairmen were not given an opportunity to "take" or refus the speaker till eight and forty hours after her time in the State of New-York had expired, and, if the were to Irespass on the time promised to New-Jorse and Connecticut, would have been compelied, according to this offer, to crowd ten nights' engagements in seven nights of time, and on notice that would have rendered audience-rooms inaccessible.

In conclusion Miss Dickinson asks:

In conclusion Miss Dickinson asks:

Will you, sir, inquire whether this source of information means "a woman" or "this woman"? He cannot mean the first, since any authority is aware that there are plenty of women who are on record as the keenest of political economists and that such women as Miss Barry and Mrs. Charlotte Smith know more of the practical effects of fariff, high or low, on multitudes of wage-working women and men than eight-tenths of the masculine theorists who have been pro and con discussing a—to them—abstract question.

If it is this woman, then she can testify she knew but too much of an argument for a revised tariff to be welcomed on that Issue by trimmers and policy servers, and so was granted the task of a labor argument on other grounds. In conclusion Miss Dickinson asks:

Indianapolis, Nov. 13 (Special).-A hunting dog owned by Patrick Walsh was struck on the head with a hatchet last night, and this morning it was found to be mad. It attacked Miss Coca Walsh, an eighteen-year-old daughter of its owner, biting both her arms When Mr. Walsh went to the rescue one of his hands was badly bitten. In a mad flight through the city with several policemen in pursuit, shooting at it, the dog bit fully fifty animals, and finally attacked a small child tearing out one of the little fellow's chacks and destroying an eye. Great excilement was caused, and not until it had been chased a distance of two miles was the dog killed.

EMBARRASSMENT OF STERNE MORSE. Boston, Nov. 13.—The financial embarrassment of Sterne Morse, formerly a member of the wool firm of Morse, Denny & Co., but who retired from activbusiness over a year ago, is announced. Mr. Morse was the indorser of a considerable amount of the paper of W. D. Forbes, whose assignment was recently r ported. The immediate cause of Mr. Morse's sur-pension is the discovery of the existence of a deman note for $5,000 upon which his name appeared as in dorser. Mr. Morse did not know that such a note existed, and when it was discovered he determined to pay none of the Forbes paper until he found out just how matters stood. Mr. Morse is a director of the Hamilton Bank.

THE CHARLESTON LICENSE WAR ENDED. Charleston, S. C., Nov. 13 (Special).-The protracted municipal license war in Charleston came to a close to-day. The imprisoned merchants were taken be the Circuit Court on a writ of habeas corpus and the writ summarily dismissed. This cut away the last prop of the defendants. Two hours later the surrendered, accepting the terms offered them four days ago by the city, viz., each defendant to pay 50 per cent of the price of his license, which amount is is estimated will reimburse the city for the actual costs of the trial. The city remits the fines are the court officials remit their fees and costs. All the defendants settled up this afternoon.

THE HARVARD-PRINCETON FOOTBALL MATCH. Harvard and Princeton will play their great champion ship game of football at Princeton on Saturday. The game will be called at about 3 o'clock, and it is expected that it will be the closest game which the two colleges have played for years on Princeton's grounds. Each college has a large number of alumni in this city and the majority of them take a keen interest in the intercollegiate matches. As the day of the match approaches, the in-terest grows stronger, and the talk yesterday was that each college would be well represented from this city. Since the opening of the season the impression has rained ground that Princeton will defeat Harvard and may be able to wrest the championship from Yale.

ALDERMEN BEGIN THE OFFICIAL CANVASS. The Board of Aldermen met at 9 a. m. yesterday and organized as the Board of County Canvassers, electing Walton Storm president. An adjournment was taken until after the funeral of President Forster. After the Board reassembled routine business was done and an adjournment was taken until 1 p. m. to-day. This was disappointing to a large crowd of spectators who had come in expecting to witness the proceedings connected with the election of a new president the question comes up to-day it is understood that the three Republican members, Messrs, Conkling, Cowie and McMurray, will vote for James T. Van Rensselaer, the Republican nominee at the recent election. The Tammany men will vote for General John Cochrane or ex-Judge A. B. Tappan, as the chiefs may in the meantime determine, while the County Democrats will decline to vote on the ground that Democrats will decline to vote on the geoma that under the law the vice-president, Mr. Dowling, should act as president. As a majority of all the members is required to elect, which means fourteen votes, it will require three members besides the present Tammany strength of eleven to name the successful man. The Loard met again as County Canvassers at 2 p. m. The canvassing of the vote was begun, but no results will be given until the whole work is function.

The annual fair at 8t. Ann's Church was opened last evening with a good attendance. The church parlors were made bright and attractive by the various tables and booths for the sale of fancy articles, amountables which were the employment society, Sunday-school, apron, rectory, candy, girl's friendly, and young ladies' Bible class tables. The booth, however, which perhaps attracted most attention was the one atside able portion of the congregation. Among the contributors to the fair are Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt, $100; W. & J. Sloane, daghestan rug; J. H. Johnston Tiffany & Co., Davis Collemore, Gilman Collamore, A. A. Vantine, Lord & Taylor, and Jacob Huyler. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to church muste for the coming year. The fair will be continued to-day

THE SUIT AGAINST THE SUGAR TRUST. The affairs of the great Sugar Trust will have a airing in the Supreme Court to-day before Judge Barrett in a suit brought against the trust by the Attorney-General of the State. It will be made a test case to determine the legality of the trust's existence and also of its present methods of doing business. Prominent lawyers will appear on both sides and a great legal tussle is to be expected.

Theodore A. Havemeyer, of the firm of Havemeyer & Elder, gives his views on the subject as follows: "I am glad that this suit is coming to trial before such a good judge as Judge Barrett. Either the association we have formed is legal or it is not, too much capital involved to allow the question of the legality of our proceedings to remain in doubt. As I understand it the suit is brought against the North River Sagar Refining Company to dissolve a corporation whose premises are about to be condemned for a jubile park."

DEATH OF AN INDIAN PRINCESS.

Pittsburg, Nov. 13 (Special:—A genuine Indian princess died in Allegheny City last night. Her maiden name was Muzetta Davison Wappokiteet. NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS HIS FIRST BURGLARY A FAILURE.

Charles Martin, who says that he lives at Perth Amboy, acted foolishly yesterday morning when he atempted to commit a burglary at the house of Ed vard P. Everett, No. 481 Mulberry-st., Newark. He tried to enter the house through a window of the base ment. The window had a row of potted flowers upos its inner ledge, and when the sash was raised they dropped to the floor. Martin did not scurry away, but waited patiently for a moment, and then, feeling assured that the inmates had not been aroused, had the temerity to crawl in at the open window. He was busily engaged in assorting and selecting the choicest silverware on the buffet, when he was startled by as ominous click behind him, and his eye rested on a bulllog revolver on a line with his head. The burglas dropped on his knees instantly and began to beg Mr. Everett for merev.

"It's tough, young man, mighty tough for you,"

"It's tough, young man, mighty tough for you," replied the man with the pistol, "but I shall have to hold you until an officer comes."

Yesterday afternoon Martin acknowledged to Justice Van Ness that he had been the victim of two scoundrels who had induced him to commit his first offence. He gave their names as William Hudson of No. 111 Pennington-st., and John F. Farrell, of Nicholson-st. Both men were shortly after arrosted. All three wore committed for Special Sessions.

A PARADE IN JERSEY-CITY TO-NIGHT. The jubilant Republicans in Jersey City have had parades and jolifications nearly every night since election, and arrangements have been made for monster parade in the lower part of the city this evening. On Monday night Colonel John J. Toffey, State Treasurer, gave a reception and supper to the Toffey Guards, in recognition of their valuable services during the campaign. The organization, under the management of Captain Charles W. Laws, was one of the finest campaign clubs in this part of the country, and during the campaign received and accepted invita-tions to parade in New-York, Brooklyn, Newark, Phila-delphia and other places. Its fine appearance and marching atracted attention and elicited applause wherever it went. The reception was given in Colo-nei Toffey's house and was attended by a number of prominent Republicans.

JAEHNE MEANS TO BE GOOD. When Henry W. Jachne, the convicted boodle alderman, came into the visitors' room at Sing Sing prison yesterday, he did not look nearly so dashing and gallant as he did when sentenced three years ago. When asked if he had heard the news of the failure of his last appeal to the United States Court, he replied: "Yes, I have heard about it and I am not greatly surprised. I did not place much reliance on the application and have not allowed myself to hope for too much. I shall now give my attention to obeying the rules of the prison, so as to get the benefit of time commutation for good behavior. That will get me out in about four years.

JERSEY CITY.

Paul Krauver, age twenty-three, of North Sixth-st. Brooklyn, an employe in the barrel factory connected with Matthlessen & Wiechers's sugar refinery. was caught in the belting yesterday and frightfully mangled. When the machinery was stopped he fell to the floor dead. A number of tradesmen have recently been cheated executed. The defect most readily detected is in the signature of Treasurer James W. Hvatt, which runs over the red seal, whereas in the genuine note the name is below the seal. Mrs. Susan McGuire, a widow, who lived in Fourthst., while driving a cow off the Pennsylvania Railroad track near the cut yesterday, was struck by a train

by a counterfeit one-dollar bill, which is cleverly and instantly killed. Charles Hahr, the young divinity student who was brought from Detroit to Hoboken a few days ago to answer a charge of forgery, was admitted to ball yesterday. Hahr was captured in the house of John W. Bressler, a wealthy Detroit merchant, into whose favor he had ingratiated himself. It is understood that Mr. Bressler's daughter will be married to Hahr as soon as he gets out of his trouble.
